

HISCELLANEOUS.

OH! GIVE ME BACK MY HEART AGAIN!

[By Miss PARDEE.]
Oh! give me back my heart again—
You cannot prize it now;
You've look'd into a brighter eye,
And on a fairer brow.
If still you loved, you would not let
Another's image reign
One instant in your spirit-depths—
Oh! give it back again.

Oh! give me back my heart again—
It has loved you well,
Keep it in silence—it's no tale
For lips like yours to tell.
I read it in the languid smile,
Which strives to cheat in vain;
The wandering glance—the alter'd tons—
Oh! give it back again.

Oh! give me back my heart again—
You do not know its pride;
It does not ask a single thought
Another may divide.
Fear not reproach—on happier days
Though it may dwell with pain,
Believe me, it will never seek
To beat with yours again!

Matri money.—Our brethren (Blum & Son.) of the Weekly Chronicle, have never received even a slice of cake (?) for the faithful publication of matrimonial notices! When two happy souls are irreversibly link'd together, they are so wrapt away in their own bliss, that they forget, we fear, another's wo. But the last Chronicle hath it on record, that the Editors have lately received, for their wholesome services, something more substantial than mere bread!—

What think you it was, reader? Was it an invitation to the wedding? or a kiss from the fair bride? No; a wedding than all that. What! better than a wedding frolic! and sweeter than a maiden's kiss!! Aye; it was of more avail than all the charms in Venus' cestus, or all the offerings on Hymen's alter—it was ACTUAL CASH!!! Well mayest thou grin and stare, unsophisticated reader,—cash is a 'new thing under the sun' in a Printing-office—more especially when presented as a remuneration for services done to the votaries of Hymen.

We were always warm devotees to the doctrine of matrimony—early matrimony—but could we get the cash for every hymeneal notice we might publish, we could easily place the manifold advantages of wedlock in a thousand new and inviting lights; and not leave an individual old bachelor in the land a pin to hang an objection on,—nor a maiden lady with a single excuse, so long as a rose-blush lagged on her cheek. O dear! what excellent and potent logic cash is!—Greensborough Patriot.

Life.—Oh, how many ties there are to bind the soul to earth! When the strongest are cut asunder, and the spirit feels itself cast loose from every bond which connects it with mortality, how does one little tear after another become entwined about it, and draw it back with a gentle violence! He who thinks he has but one love, is always mistaken. The heart may have one overwhelming affection, more powerful than all the rest, which, like the main root of a tree, is that which supports it; but if that be cut away, it will find a thousand minute fibres still clinging to the soil of humanity. An absorbing passion may fill up the soul, and, while it lasts, may throw a shade over the various obligations and the infinite multitude of kindnesses and tender associations that bind us to mankind; but when that fades, these are seen to twinkle in the firmament of life, as the stars shine after the sun has gone down. Even the brute, and tides of the field, that neither toil nor spin, put in their silent claims; and the heart that would have spurned the world, settles quietly down again upon its bosom.

A new advocate for Union.—A lady, who styles herself "A Candidate for Constitutional Bias," advertises, in the Opelousas (La.) Gazette, that she "ardently desires to unite herself to some gentleman, whose habits and disposition are accordant with her own."

Applications are to be made to the editor of the Gazette, who says "if he could, he would himself volunteer for the bold lady;" and well he says so, if truly the modest fair one portrays her excellencies: "My complexion brunet, eyes and hair black, nose Grecian, mouth small, neck slender, bust proportionately full, height 5 feet 3 inches, ankles and hands delicately formed—fortune about $20,000." The editor of the Gazette earnestly invites the attention of the bachelor fraternity particularly to this application, and further remarks, that "he has seen them, with great sorrow, poking the fire, for want of something else to do, and is glad to find that a spinster has appeared who is willing to relieve them of such fruitless labor, and give them domestic occupation." Verily, if the bachelors of Opelousas can stand all this unmoved, they must indeed be an incorrigible set, and past all hopes of reform.—Natchez Courier.

As a gentle hint to others similarly annoyed, we record the rebuke of a visitor, to whom a mother expressed her apprehensions that he was disturbed by the crying of her spoilt child. "Not at all, madam," was the reply; "I am always delighted to hear children cry." "Indeed! why so?" "Because, in all well-regulated families, they are immediately sent out of the room."

Definition of a Gentleman.—Gentility is neither in birth, manner, nor fashion, but in the mind. A high sense of honor, a determination never to take a mean advantage of another, an adherence to truth, delicacy, and politeness, towards those with whom you may have dealings, are essential and distinguishing characteristics of a gentleman.

W. J. Keahay & Co.

HAVING received from N. York the latest Spring and Summer Fashions, inform their friends that they are now ready to execute all orders in their line with neatness and despatch.—They take this opportunity of returning their grateful acknowledgments for the liberal share of public patronage with which they have been favored. They think it not presumption to say, they are better prepared to give more general satisfaction than heretofore. To secure confidence, they solicit a fair trial. If misfit should ever occur, it is made good by the cash or a second trial at their own expense.

25 or 30,000 lbs. good Bacon
For sale by
March 24. JOHN M. MORRISON.

A Splendid Line of HACKS
FROM
Salisbury to Raleigh, N. C.

THE SUBSCRIBERS, anxious to offer every facility to the Travelling Public, now announce that they have completed all their arrangements, and can with truth say, We present you with a Line of HACKS possessing advantages over any other, if you wish to get on with ease and despatch—having obtained that great desideratum with Travellers—no detention on the road, is so arranged as to correspond, in its arrivals at Raleigh, with the departure of the following stages, viz.: The Great Road Line to Blakely, North Carolina, passing through Louisburg, Warrenton, and Halifax; at the latter place a Line of Stage-roads communicates with the Portsmouth Road for Norfolk: by continuing on the Blakely, you strike the Petersburg Road; and on your arrival at that place you have the choice of two Lines—either by land to Washington City, via Richmond and Fredericksburg, or by Steam-boat to Norfolk.

At Norfolk there will be no detention, as there is a line of Steam-Boats for Baltimore in connexion with the line. This line also connects with one from Raleigh to Newbern. Leaves the Mansion Hotel, Salisbury TUESDAY and SATURDAY at 9 o'clock A. M.—after the arrival of the Piedmont Stage from the South—arrives in Raleigh next day at 9 o'clock, P. M.—Leaves Raleigh TUESDAY and SATURDAY at 1 o'clock, A. M., arrives in Salisbury next day by 4 o'clock, P. M.—allowing sufficient time on the road for SLEEP.

The HACKS are Albany make, entirely new, and cannot be surpassed for comfort and ease; the Teams are excellent, the drivers careful and attentive, and the Fare is only SEVEN DOLLARS. All intermediate distances 7 cents per mile.

Passengers from the South, who will take our Line, will be careful to enter Salisbury only.

All Bundles and Packages at the risk of the owners.

WILLIS MORRISON, JOSEPH L. MOFFETT, April 11, 1835.

The Fare from Raleigh to Washington City amounts to $19.50, as follows:

From Raleigh to Blakely, Stage-Fare, $1.50; Blakely to Petersburg, Rail-Road Fare, Petersburg to Richmond, Stage-Fare, Richmond to Fredericksburg, Stage-Fare, Fredericksburg to Washington City, Steam-boat Fare, $1.50.

The Steam-boat Fare from Petersburg to Baltimore, via Norfolk, is Four Dollars.
